it's a Reethi Day!

by Smrutica Jithendranath

At Reethi Faru Resort, we believe in conserving what is naturally available to us, the ocean and all that it represents and our beautiful island that is lush with vegetation. Reethi day (20th of every month) is our way of celebrating the environment and giving back to it by planting trees, cleaning up our beach and reef and planting corals with the guests' participation, as a way of encouraging conservation through education.

Reethi Faru literally translates to "beautiful reef", which is why we are mindful of keeping our beach, and ultimately our reef and lagoon clean and free of any rubbish. Corals are the building blocks of the reef and they are under tremendous threat and their conservation is imperative. At Reethi Faru, we are installing artificial reefs to boost the growth of the depleting corals around the island. Reethi Day translates to "Beautiful Day", and the whole team gets together to keep our environment beautiful through our eco practices, and do our part in giving back to the environment.
